Abstract

Abstract of approximately 100-200 words.

Keywords: Keyword1, keyword2, ..., keyword(n).

1 Instructions for authors

Info for LNGAI2021 Authors are invited to submit an original, previously unpublished, short research paper pertaining to any of these topics. The paper should be in English, and should be no longer than 12 pages (excluding references, but including appendix and notes) when formatted according to the 12pt LaTeX specification that will be sent to all authors of accepted papers. The first page should contain an abstract of no more than ten lines. Authors should submit their papers electronically using EasyChair.

For LNGAI2021, we will use the stylesheet that was also used for DEON2016. We thank the chairs of that edition (Allard Tamminga, Malte Willer, and Olivier Roy) for their willingness to share this stylesheet with us.

General Info on the Style Important information pertaining to the preparation of your paper:

- Please prepare your paper by editing this file (`LNGAI21.tex`) as well as the bibliography file, `LNGAI21.bib`.

- Please do not use includegraphics on any PDF files not having all fonts embedded. If in doubt, please convert to JPG before including.

- It is strictly prohibited to tamper with the text dimensions, including adding to the text height or width. The dimensions of the style files are already taken to the limit of what the printer of the final proceedings is able to handle. Also, please refrain from using any kind of negative white space.

- Please make sure too split lines that are too wide in the final output (avoid overfull \hboxes).

2 Introduction

This is a section of the paper. A set of standard theorem environments is available, including Theorem, Proposition, Lemma, Corollary, Definition, Example, Note, Claim and Remark (see the file LNGAI21macro.sty for details).

Definition 2.1 This is a definition.

Lemma 2.2 This is a lemma...

Proof. ...and this is how it's proved. □

This is a citation of an important paper [1], without which the present paper could never have been.

Appendix

Here starts the appendix. If you don't wish an appendix, please remove the \Appendix command from the LaTeX file.
